MICROPLANET NAMED TO 2008 TSX VENTURE 50

Seattle, WA. – June 19, 2008 – MicroPlanet, (MP:TSXV & MCTYF:OTC) a clean technology, energy conservation company was today named to the 2008 TSX Venture 50™, a ranking of Canada's top emerging public companies listed on TSX Venture Exchange.

The TSX Venture 50 are the top 10 companies in each of five major industry sectors (mining, oil & gas, technology & life sciences, diversified industries and cleantech), based on a ranking formula that includes revenue, return on investment, market cap growth, and trading volume.

"Being named to the TSX Venture 50 is a tremendous recognition for our accomplishments as a clean tech company", said Bruce Lisanti, CEO of MicroPlanet. "The past 12 months for MicroPlanet have been very eventful including the Company's first commercial order for $6 million in product from Ergon Energy and the recent closing of a significant equity financing with institutional investors."

"We are very proud to announce the 2008 TSX Venture 50 to celebrate the achievement of our issuers," said Kevan Cowan, President, TSX Venture Exchange. "The impressive list of companies demonstrates that the TSX Venture Exchange is a unique incubator for public companies, and the companies in the TSX Venture 50 are proof that this market is working."

The 2008 TSX Venture 50™ was compiled based on public historical data and is not an invitation to purchase securities listed on Toronto Stock Exchange and/or TSX Venture Exchange. About MicroPlanet Technology Corp.

MicroPlanet's technology helps to reduce the total amount of energy we need to produce by significantly increasing the efficiency of the electric grid. MicroPlanet's products dynamically manage the voltage delivered to a business or home to optimal levels, which saves energy, lowers electricity bills and helps reduce greenhouse emissions. The Company's products also reduce peak period demand and can improve utility services. In areas where substantial energy is generated from wind and solar, MicroPlanet systems also help to balance the voltage levels, improving the power quality for residential and commercial users.
